Tommy Cooper Quips

The other day I sent my girlfriend a huge pile of snow. I rang her up. I said "Do you get my drift?"

So I went down the local supermarket, I said "I want to make a complaint, this vinegar's got lumps in it". He said "Those are pickled onions".

So I went to the Chinese restaurant and this duck came up to me with a red rose and says "Your eyes sparkle like diamonds". I said "Waiter, I asked for a-ROMATIC duck".

So I rang up British Telecom, I said "I want to report a nuisance caller", he said "Not you again".

And I've got a friend who's fallen in love with two school bags, he's bi-satchel.

So I was in Tesco's and I saw this man and woman wrapped in a barcode. I said "Are you two an item?"

So a lorry-load of tortoises crashed into a train-load of terrapins, I thought "That's a turtle disaster".

And an airplane of spittle dived into the sea, there were no salivas.

Extracts of letters received from residents by their local council:

Will you please send someone to mend the garden path? My wife tripped and fell on it yesterday and now she is pregnant.

I request permission to remove my drawers in the kitchen.

50% of the walls are damp, 50% have crumbling plaster, and 50% are just plain filthy.

The next door neighbour has got this huge tool that vibrates the whole house and I just can't take it anymore.

The toilet is blocked and we cannot bath the children until it is cleared.

Will you please send a man to look at my water, it is a funny colour and not fit to drink.

Our lavatory seat is broken in half and now is in three pieces.

A new shop has opened in Leigh, called 'Moderation' - they've got everything in there.

The Church Ladies bulletins

Thank God for the church ladies with typewriters. These sentences actually appeared in church bulletins or were announced at church services:

Weight Watchers will meet at 7 PM at the First Presbyterian Church. Please use large double door at the side entrance.

And this last one just about sums them all up:

The Associate Minister unveiled the church's new campaign slogan last Sunday:

'I Upped My Pledge - Up yours.'

Soooo...would this be a cat scan or a copy cat?
